My name is Seth Perler. Welcome to TEFOS, The Executive Function Online Summit for parents. Now, if you're a teacher, or administrator, or para, or grandparent, or psychotherapist, you're more than welcome to attend our summit. But we are speaking directly to you parents here, but we have a lot of other people who participate. This is an amazing summit. It is now April of 2021 and I am getting the speakers for this August, when we start, and I'm so excited. This will be our third year. I'm really glad to have you. I pour my heart and soul into this and so do the speakers. This is one of the most heartfelt summits you will ever experience, I promise. Go ahead and sign-up for free. Sign up below, put your email in and you're on the list. You don't have to do anything after that, you're done. You get to come for free for the three days: Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

My intention is that on that weekend, you have no life except for the summit. My intention is that as much as you can, you immerse yourself in the summit. It is a powerful experience that is a game changer. If you're able to immerse yourself, you will have shifts, you will have changes, you will have changes in perception, good ideas to help your child, from these amazing, amazing, heartfelt experts from all over the place, from all different sorts of backgrounds, that will share their expertise with you.

I'm so excited for this. Again, I designed this to be something that's a game-changer, something that impacts your life, parents. Something that really helps you. So, it's powerful. It's our third year, you'll see in the Facebook group if you join us that people really have had a tremendous experience going through this. Yes, you can buy it if you want, but it's free for the three days. Come, be there, get everything you can out of it. It's amazing. So, again, my name is Seth Perler. I'm really thrilled that you're here. I hope to see you then. Have a fantastic day, and may your day be filled with connection with your child. Take care.
